

Wayne Taylor Barn

This big barn at 1580 East Main Canyon Road in Wallsburg belongs to Wayne and Emeda Taylor. It was also built by Wayne commonly known as Jake. He was born and reared in Wallsburg, but he and Emeda live in Arizona in the winter. In February of this year they celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary.

The barn was built in 1945 or 1946 and is built of red pine and cement. The bottom part is cement painted white. It was built for a hay barn and to milk cows. There is a granery at one end and a work shop; with 3 horse and 8 cow stalls. On the west south side they had a milk tank. This barn is some distance from the center of Wallsburg--a nice ride.

Information came from Jake in Arizona by phone.

Wynne Taylor Farm

This big barn at 1530 East Main (just on Road in Wallburg) belongs to Wynne and Emma Taylor. It was also built by Wynne's company. Known as Jake. He was born and reared in Wallburg, but he and Emma live in Arizona in the winter. In February of this year they celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary.

The barn was built in 1945 or 1946 and is built of red pine and cement. The bottom part is cement painted white. It was built for a hay barn and to milk cows. There is a granary at one end and a work shop with 3 bays and 8 cow stalls. On the west south side they had a milk tank. This barn is some distance from the center of Wallburg - a mile or so.

Information came from Jake in Arizona by phone.